

HOME HAPPENINGS.

—Get busy with Christmas shopping.

—Winter gives every evidence of being here to stay.

—County teachers' examination in Youngstown next Saturday.

—W. L. Bryson, the grocer, has a fine new covered delivery wagon.

—Council will meet in regular monthly session next Monday night.

—Union services of the churches will be held Sunday evening in the Christian church.

—The Normal college and union schools closed Wednesday afternoon for the Thanksgiving vacation.

—William Webb, who has been confined to his home by sickness for several weeks, is reported to be improving.

—Thanksgiving morning dawned bright as a new dollar and the mercury registered only 16 degrees above zero.

—Most of the Normal college teachers and pupils have gone to their homes to spend the Thanksgiving vacation.

—Mrs. Henry Clay's condition was reported very critical Thursday morning. She was stricken with paralysis last Friday.

—Many wagon loads of turkeys, chickens, ducks and geese were this week hauled through Canfield to Youngstown.

—A stated communication of Argus Lodge, F. & A. M., will be held Friday evening when officers for the ensuing year may be installed.

—Dressed chickens at 12 and 14 cents a pound are the lowest figures reached in this locality for several years at Thanksgiving time.

—The C. W. B. M. of the Christian church will meet at the home of Miss Mary Porter next Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

—The annual Thanksgiving services will be held in College Chapel this (Thursday) evening. Rev. F. H. Hill, pastor of the M. E. Church, will pronounce the sermon.

—Daniel Block, representing a large tannery in Zanesville, was here this week and purchased two car loads of hides, one each from Callahan & Neff and John Deits & Sons.

—Through mistake last week in announcing the marriage of Fred G. and Miss Mamie Miller the name Minnie was used. It was Miss Mamie who became the fortunate bride.

—A checkers club organized last week at the Normal college has something like a dozen members. It is expected that most of the checker players in town will join the club.

—Don't fail to hear Col. George W. Bain in College Chapel Friday night. This is the second number of the lecture course. Col. Bain's subject will be "Searchlight of the Twentieth Century."

—The Epworth League will hold a social at the Methodist church Monday evening, Dec. 4. This will be a free social. A good evening of entertainment will be provided. Everybody invited, especially the young people.

—The property of the late Mrs. Millie Kimley was sold at public sale Tuesday afternoon by the administrator, Mrs. Scott Blackburn, to H. J. Wilbur, a Youngstown real estate dealer, for $900. He purchased the property as an investment.

—On Nov. 16 Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collar of Belleville, Ill., celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. The couple formerly resided in Canfield and will be remembered by many of our older citizens. Soon after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Collar removed to Belleville and there they have since resided.

—Next Monday at 10 a. m. a meeting will be held in town hall to arrange for the Agricultural Extension School to be held in Canfield January 8-12. It is desired that every person interested in agricultural matters will attend. A meeting of ladies interested in the Domestic Science School, to be held at the same time, will also be held Monday to make necessary arrangements.

—The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will hold its third Praise Service and Missionary Tea at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Fugate Wednesday, Dec. 6, at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Kelley of Leetonia, who has been actively engaged in both home and foreign missions, will give an address. He will bring with him his adopted daughter who was formerly a Mount Airy White. The meeting will be full of interest and all who are interested in the work are most cordially invited to be present.

—Fine crayon portraits, handsomely framed, of Alexander Dickson and H. A. Manchester have been placed on the walls of the Farmers' National Bank. Mr. Dickson has been president of the bank since its founding a quarter of a century ago and Mr. Manchester was its cashier for twenty years. Both are still directors. The placing of the pictures in the bank was a complete surprise to both gentlemen and carrying out successfully the surprise. The work was done by C. D. Hoover of Youngstown, an artist who has earned more than local prominence. Mr. Hoover executed several of the finest portraits of distinguished men that are to be seen in the new court house at Youngstown.

—The Presbyterian church last Sunday celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of its organization. A large congregation was present and took an active part in the service by a thank offering of $79.83 to commemorate the day. By way of reminiscence it was mentioned that Robert L. McClelland, Dr. C. R. Fowler, James Reed, Aaron Collar and Andrew Barber were the first elders of the congregation and that more than 60 years ago Mrs. Plympton Goe united with this church while Mrs. Adeline Hine has been a member for 57 years. Mrs. Martha Fowler and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Manchester have been members for more than 52 years. The present elders of the church are Alexander Dickson, H. A. Manchester, Dr. D. Campbell, Ed. Graves, Henry Hunt, I. A. Manchester and A. A. Manchester. About 1800 persons have at one time or another been members of the church while the present membership is 245.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

—We all have much to be thankful for.

—Many farmers in Portage county were unable to get their potatoes dug before cold weather set in and their loss will reach a large sum.

—The annual meeting of the Eastern Ohio Teachers' association will be held in East Liverpool Friday and Saturday. It is expected that 500 teachers will be in attendance.

—Gertrude Patterson, accused of the murder of her husband, Charles Patterson, at Denver, Col., was on Wednesday declared not guilty by the jury in district court in Denver.

—In the Beal law elections held Wednesday in Wellsville and East Liverpool the wets were easy victors. Wellsville went wet by a majority of 413 and the wet majority in East Liverpool was 1012.

—A. C. Cowin, Lake Shore agent at Hubbard for 16 years, has been promoted to the agency of the company at Franklin, Pa. J. E. Schofield, long bill clerk in the Hubbard office, succeeds Mr. Cowin as agent.

—Mrs. David Moore, wife of Bishop Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church, died at Cincinnati Friday night. The end was expected, she having been ill for several months. She was a highly respected woman, and a great missionary worker.

—Mrs. Isaac Cattell died Monday morning at her home in Beloit of diabetes. She leaves a husband and an adopted son. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Beloit Friends' church and burial was made in Quaker Hill cemetery.

—Aaron Sittler, an aged resident of New Springfield, died Monday from the effects of a fall sustained a week before in getting out of a wagon. He struck on his head and at the time it was not thought his injuries were serious. Several days after the accident, however, complications developed and death resulted. His wife and five children survive him.

—Warren Chronicle: The papers had a story the past week about how a surgeon had cut 15 pounds of fat off the abdomen of a fleshy patient. That's nothing, local surgeons performed that feat at the Warren hospital months ago. While not generally known, some very rare and unusual operations, in which recovery has been made, have been performed at our hospital.

Birthday Surprise Party.

Last Thursday evening forty-one friends and neighbors of E. R. Lynn of Canfield township gathered at his hospitable home to remind him of his 46th birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and games. At midnight a delicious lunch was served. A signal ring was presented Mr. Lynn as a token of friendship and good will. As the guests departed for their homes all wished their host many happy returns of the day.

Letter to William Marshall Canfield, Ohio.

Dear Sir: Here's another problem for those arithmetic and algebra scholars:

If Devoe is worth $2.25 a gallon, and spreads a half further than average paint, and wears twice as long, what is average paint worth a gallon put on, painter's wages being $2.50 a day and a day's work a gallon of paint.

The answer is minus $2.25 a gallon. That is: you could afford to paint with average paint if somebody gives it to you and pays half the painter's wages.

Yours truly
F. W. DEVOE & CO
F. A. Morris sells our paint.

Attention, Farmers.

All interested in the Agricultural Extension School to be held in Canfield January 8 to 12 are requested to meet in town hall, Canfield, Monday, Dec. 4, at 10 a. m., to reorganize and arrange for the school.

Carl Sherwood of Youngstown visited his mother, Mrs. W. M. Burkey, last week.

Preparations are being made for a Christmas entertainment at the North Berlin church.

Joseph Wilson expects to go to Kansas soon to spend the winter.

END OF AN OLD SUPERSTITION

Height of Present New York Buildings Discourages Youngsters There to Seek Fortune.

Said a New York octogenarian: "The height of buildings in New York has dealt a death blow to an old superstition that animated many a country youth who came here to make his fortune 60 years ago. Heaven knows how they came by the belief, but most of those up-state boys came to the city thinking that if they could toss a coin over a house they took a fancy to at the first try, the house would be theirs some day."

"It was one of my surest convictions, and I put it to a test immediately after paying for my first meal in New York. The only money I had left was an old-fashioned three-cent piece. With that in my hand I walked around looking for a desirable piece of property. Pretty soon a corner lot on which stood a two-story-and-a-half brick house took my eye."

"I had practiced coin throwing in the country, so I let my three-cent piece go for all it was worth over the front of the house and ran around to the back to see where it landed. It went clean over. I knew then that that house and lot would be mine in due time, and sure enough they were. People don't woo fortune by flipping coins these days. The fellow whose success depends upon tossing a three-cent piece over the Singer building would be in a pretty bad fix."

Comedy of Corn.

"Say, you know how fastidious Briggs is?"

"Yes."

"Well, he gets wild whenever the Maitland girl, she's his fiancée, eats corn off the cob. She found out how he felt about it, and the other evening at dinner at the club she tried to cut the corn from the cob. Briggs noticed this and smiled approvingly, but just then her knife slipped, the cob popped nimbly onto Briggs' shirt-bosom, the plate skidded, the gravy bowl went over and all the cut off kernels showered themselves dangerously near the gorgeous corsage of that very stout Mrs. Singleton Mink."

"And what did Briggs do?"

"Say, Briggs was game. He called the waiter, handed him the cob, and said, 'Francis, this corn popped from the plate just now. I didn't order popcorn. Bring the other sort, Francis, and make it cobless, please.'"

Curious Annamese Customs.

Mme. Gabrielle M. Vassal, the wife of a French doctor, who was attached to the Pasteur Institute of the Nha-Trang, a little village on the coast of Annam, relates some of her experiences. When she and her husband arrived at Nha-Trang they were received by the native servants, who saluted and squatted on the floor for a while, this being their method of greeting Europeans. Servants had the curious habit of washing all dishes under the table; never on its top. Men and women dressed alike, wearing trousers and tunics, and women on the way to market with their baskets always walked in single file.

Obligation of Love.

Love is a debt, an obligation that never can be fully met, and so must rest upon us always. We cannot annul obligation at will, cannot refuse payment and hold ourselves free. Aid and kindness, sympathy and love, we owe on every hand, to our brother man everywhere, while life lasts.—J. R. Miller.

Something About Names.

A person will grow to look like and be like his or her name. Algernons and Reginalds of modern times look the part, and owe a deep debt of ingratitude to their parents. A young man named Harold or Montmorency would be justified in hiring an automobile and running over his aged parents as they are attempting to cross the street on the way home from church.—New York Times.

THE MOLIER BARBER COLLEGE of Cleveland, O., wants men to learn the Barber Trade. They offer splendid inducements and a short term completes. They mail free a beautiful catalogue and ask all our readers to send for it.

MURDERS ENTIRE FAMILY

ENRAGED MAN SLAYS FIVE, THEN ENDS OWN LIFE.

Shoots and Kills Wife, Two Children, Mother-in-Law, Sister-in-Law and Himself.

Lodi, N. J., Nov. 29.—Entering the store and residence of his brother-in-law here, Ignazio Pleskia shot and killed his wife, Constancia, who had recently left him; his mother-in-law, Antoinette Pecorino, 67 years old; his two children, Rosalie and Fedilio; his sister-in-law, Annie Pecorino, 45 years old, and completed the murderous job by killing himself.

There were only six cartridges in Pleskia's revolver. He used them all and each ended a life.

Pleskia was a worker in the silk mills here. Five years ago he married Constancia Pecorino. They lived happily enough until after the birth of their second child. Pleskia was disappointed because the child was not a boy, and, it is said, began to abuse his wife. Ten days ago Mrs. Pleskia had her husband arrested on the charge of assault and threatening to kill her. Pleskia was placed under bonds to keep the peace.

The wife, having little confidence in the bond, left her husband and with her children went to live with her mother and brother. Angered at her refusal to return to her husband, he believed to have been the cause of the tragedy.

NOTED POET UNABLE TO WRITE

James Whitcomb Riley Is Victim of Stroke Which Paralyzes Both Hands of Famous Bard.

Indianapolis, Nov. 29.—The world has received its last poem from the hand of James Whitcomb Riley, America's greatest living poet. Mr. Riley was asked by friends to write a poem in the form of a Christmas message to public and sadly shook his head and exposed a withered right hand. The paralytic stroke which the famous bard had a couple of years ago, and which brought him to illness ever since, has gone to his right hand and this member is absolutely helpless now.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS ORGANIZE

Denounce Movement for Equal Rights at Ballot Box as the "Woman's Yellow Peril."

New York, Nov. 29.—Denouncing suffrage as the "woman's yellow peril" because of its yellow banners and lemon colored literature, prominent anti-suffragists throughout the country met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dodge, in Park avenue, and organized the "National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage." "The purpose of the association is to combat this yellow peril and save the younger generation from the suffrage illusions," said Mrs. Arthur Dodge after the meeting.

SEES WIFE DROWN HERSELF

Husband Leaps Into Freezing Creek but Fails to Save Bride of Only Six Weeks.

Toledo, O., Nov. 29.—Mrs. Guy Thwing, 20, a bride of six weeks, committed suicide by drowning in Swan creek in view of her frantic husband and mother.

The husband leaped into the freezing creek and nearly lost his life in an effort to save his wife.

Her body has not been recovered and her husband is in a serious condition as a result of his plunge.

Youngstown's Christmas Headquarters

McKelvey's
"THE BIG STORE"

The McKelvey Store of Furs Combines Reliability With Moderate Prices.

A moderate price would have no attraction to any woman unless coupled with an assurance of quality. This is our fur story in a nut shell.

Women are amazed with McKelvey values—this the result of trade connections of the most desirable kind.

Variety of style is another point which attracts many women. All sizes can be found in our coats, and among the small furs many styles at each price.

Naturally we have exercised the greatest care in selecting these furs. By taking large quantities, we can sell at moderate prices, for instance:

NATURAL PONY COATS, PRICED $25.00 AND UPWARDS.

BLACK PONY COATS, PRICED $50.00 AND UPWARDS.

HUDSON SEAL COATS, PRICED $150.00 AND UPWARDS.

NEAR SEAL COATS, PRICED $75.00 AND UPWARDS.

BLACK SQUIRREL COATS, PRICED $119.00 AND UPWARDS.

BLACK BROOK MINK COATS, PRICED $75.00 AND UPWARDS.

PERSIAN LAMB COATS, PRICED $275.00 AND UPWARDS.

SCARFS AND MUFFS, SETS OR SEPARATE.

To name a few of the leading lines is about all that's possible to say in the limited space. Real Lynx in black, Mink of the various grades, Fox, Sable, Marten, Squirrel, Coney and others.

Christmas selection is now at its best. The suitability of furs for gifts giving stands unparalleled. Specials Showing of Children's Furs. We don't believe there is any other showing in the city, like it.

The McKelvey Toy Store a Continuous Delight

The mechanical section is crowded with marvels of ingenuity for the delight of the boys and girls who want "toys that do things." The jungle land is full of all kinds of animals that almost frighten the children—so real.
